Article 40. Findings

History: November 26, 2002, Article 40 was added.

Sec. 1.40.010. Findings. The Community Health Aide Program Certification Board makes the following findings.

(1) The community health aide program was established to provide for training of health aides and practitioners and to maintain a system in which the health aides can relate to other health professionals while providing health care, health promotion and disease prevention services in rural Alaska.

(2) The community health aide program was authorized by Congress to promote the achievement of the health status objectives in the Indian Health Care Improvement Act in rural Alaska. These objectives are broad in scope and address virtually every aspect of health care, access, delivery, and status. Specialized training (medical, dental and behavioral health) and certification furthers those objectives by creating opportunities for community health aides to focus their training and practice on particular health issues and delivery strategies. Regardless of the specific title everyone certified under the community health aide program has the same basic responsibility: to improve health status among Alaska Natives living in rural Alaska.

(3) The need for the community health aide has not diminished – most villages in Alaska still have no health provider in the community other than a community health aide or community health practitioner. Although the infant mortality rate has diminished over the past 20 years, diabetes mellitus has increased by 110%, compared to 23% for the United States all races; the unintentional injury death rate of Alaska Natives is 4.5 times the rate for the United States; health status of rural Alaska Natives is closely related to low socio-economic status and 24% of Alaska Natives live below the poverty level compared to 13.1% for United States all races.

(4) The community health aide program has become a model for efficient and high quality health care delivery in rural Alaska providing approximately 300,000 patient encounters per year and responding to emergencies twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week.

(5) The existing community health aide program is over-taxed with persistently high rates of turnover among community health aides and practitioners.

(6) The curriculum for training community health aides and practitioners and the CHAM have always included dental care; however other demands on community health aides and practitioners have resulted largely in only emergency dental services to relieve immediate pain being available.

(7) Only 29% of Alaska Native children and even fewer adults have had access to dental care resulting in epidemic caries among children and loss of teeth among adults and elders.

(8) The Alaska Area Native Health Service, the Department of Health and Human Services, and tribal health organizations recognize the strong connection between dental health and physical health, including that caries is an infectious and contagious disease, which can result in pain, infection and diminishment of nutritional and digestive health.

(9) Shortages in the number of dentists nationally and in Alaska have resulted in high turnover among rural dentists (about 30%) and nearly a quarter of the dental positions in rural Alaska being unfilled resulting in available dental care in rural Alaska to being limited principally to only emergency services.

(10) This Board and the Alaska Area Native Health Service, together with Alaska tribal health organizations, have agreed that improvements in dental health among Alaska Natives requires health providers dedicated to dental preventive and acute care and that specialized training under the community health aide program of community health aides, who will be called dental health aides and who will limit their practice to dental care, is required to improve dental health status in rural Alaska.

(11) Approximately 58 percent of the Alaska Native population lives in small communities that have limited or no direct access to behavioral health services (Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium, 2004 Rural Behavioral Health Needs Assessment Final Report, p. 4).

(12) Staff turnover is a barrier to maintaining access to behavioral health services in villages (id., at p. 5).

(14) In the period 1996-1998, three of the five leading causes of Alaska Native deaths were related to behavioral health conditions; unintentional injuries for which the age-adjusted death rate of Alaska Natives was 101.5 compared to 30.1 U.S. all races, alcohol-related for which the age-adjusted death rate was 54.2 compared to 6.1, and suicide for which the same rate was 44.5 compared to 10.4 (id., at p. 7).
(15) The Fetal Alcohol Syndrome “prevalence rate among Alaska Natives (4.8) is three and a half times that for All Alaskans (1.4) and at least seven times the high end of the national rate of .1 to .7” (Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium, Alaska Natives: Key Facts, August 2002, p. 6).

(16) “The suicide attempt rate for Alaska Native males, ages 15-19, is 5.6 times (1565) that of Alaska males, ages 15-19 (275)...and for Alaska Native females, ages 15-19, is four times (3627) that of Alaska females, ages 15-19 (886)” (id., p. 5).

(17) “Alaska Native children represent 49 percent of the custody children sent to out-of-state placements....” (Alaska Department of Health and Social Services, Division of Behavioral Health, Bring the Kids Home Annual Report, December 2005). This constitutes a rate more than two times higher than their representation in the general population;

(18) The Healthy People 2020 objectives, broadly and deeply address behavioral health issues including injury and violence prevention, mental health, quality of life and well-being, social determinants of health, substance abuse and tobacco, along with behavioral health considerations for each stage of life.

(19) This Board and the Alaska Area Native Health Service, together with Alaska tribal health organizations, have agreed that improvements in behavioral health among Alaska Natives requires village-based health providers dedicated to behavioral health prevention and treatment and that specialized training under the community health aide program of community health aides, who will be called behavioral health aides and practitioners and who will limit their practice to behavioral health, is required to improve behavioral health status in rural Alaska.

The policy for selection must include requirements that the training applicants have no less than sixth grade math and reading skills and that they have completed Pre-Session, unless the applicant satisfies one of the exceptions to these requirements adopted under section 5.10.040(c) [trainees selection process; exceptions].

(b) Statewide Priorities. The CHA/P Training Center must adhere to statewide placement priorities for training applicants for a limited number of training slots.

(c) Exceptions. The CHA/P Training Center must have exception policies. Policies must be written to incorporate individual hardship cases, including emergency training needs in communities where there are no trained personnel and in situations where community health aides or practitioners have no access to field site courses (presession and ETT). Exception policies must also include arrangements for applicants with prior medical training, such as registered nurses, National Guard Corpsman, etc.

History: January 16, 2009, Section 5.10.040(a) was amended. November 26, 2002, Section 4.10.040(a) was amended.

Due to the short, intensive nature of CHA/P courses, faculty/trainee ratios for clinical instruction during patient encounters, in which the trainee is the primary provider, as defined in Sec. 5.10.035(b)(1), must be done on a one-to-one basis. For all other clinical instructions the following faculty/trainee ratios for clinical instruction may not be exceeded:

January 31, 2008, one section was amended, as follows:

Section 2.30.020(b) was amended, as follows:

(b) Employment. To be eligible to perform services under subsection 2.30.020(a) [minimum requirements], the person must be employed or sponsored by the Indian Health Service or a tribe or tribal program operating a community health aide program in Alaska under the ISDEAA.

June 18, 2008, the Standards were substantially amended to incorporate standards for certification of behavioral health aides and practitioners and to make certain other amendments to the Standards applicable to community health aides and practitioners and dental health aides.

Bracketed citations to other sections of the Standards were corrected and expanded throughout without editorial markings. A copy of the Standards showing all of the amendments, except those in which only the citation was corrected or expanded, is available from the CHAP Certification Board. These amendments required many new sections, which then required substantial renumbering. The table below identified the section number as of June 19, 2008, amendments, the prior section number (if any), and whether a section found in the January 31, 2008, Standards was amended.
